ADVISORY BOARD

During the design and the development phase of CORPUS we received extensive support from our medical advisory Board and general Advisory Board. This team consisting of, amongst other people, medical specialists, has ensured that all the information provided at CORPUS is based on medical facts and that CORPUS has been built as an 'exact' replica of the human body. We are particularly grateful to the team for the help they offered us at the start of the project and still offer this support as upon this day.
